Dear course participants,

the acceptance session for lab 3 will start in a few days. Because of this, this information letter provides relevant information.

Acceptance session Lab3:
The acceptance sessions days are planned as follows:
- Monday, 3rd of July
- Tuesday, 4th of July
- Tuesday, 11th of July (block week 3)
- Wednesday, 12th of July (block week 3)

The first two dates (3.7.2023 and 4.7.2023) are mostly reserved for SST-students. As an SST-student it is not planned / allowed to join the acceptance session in the block week. It is agreed that you are in your company during the block week.

I have asked for your support by sending me an email, if at least one SST-student is in your team. All received mails are processed and the slots are blocked. You can check your appointments in the lab3-acceptance-schedule in ILIAS. Known teams with (an) SST-student(s) are marked in red.

All other teams are planned accordingly to the available slots. As a result, it might happen that your team must present on Wednesday in the block week, even if your prior time slot was on Monday or Tuesday. Furthermore, it might has happened, that you only have one week left for finishing lab3.

Only complete submissions will be accepted in lab3. So, if you fail in successfully completing all tasks of lab3, you are not approved for the acceptance session. If you do not plan to submit a complete solution, please send me an email with this information so I can free you slot and assign it to another team if needed.

Further information about the course:
Unfortunately, the scheduled exam preparation as shown in the timetable of this course is cancelled, the topics of this lecture will be discussed on our last lecture session at 05.07.2023.

The exam is scheduled, and will take place on Thursday, 10.08.2023 from 14:30 – 16:00 pm.

Until then, good luck in the lab,
Your CCN-Team
